

XM radio provides services not provided by commercial radio stations in my market: access to music such as opera, a full spectrum of classical music, also jazz, and blues. There is no reason to dictate what we listen to in America, and certainly no reason to restrict satellite subscribers access to weather and traffic. This service is wonderful for automobile travelers accross the country. I look forward to my next road trip where I will have access to something other than preachers, country music and local talk shows. Why shouldn't I know what the weather and traffic is like in the next city I approach!

This is America. Please promote our right to choose.